2. DISCUSSION ITEMS

2a. Rhode to Work Report/Board of Education Governance Structure and Goals

Marie Ganim, Deputy Chief of Staff and Director of Policy for the Senate presented the report of the Senate Policy Office, Rhode to Work, A Legislative Action Plan – January 2014. The report focuses on meeting the training needs of today’s unemployment and tomorrow’s workforce.

Ms. Ganim explained that the genesis of the report was the urgency that the Senate President and other members felt about Rhode Island’s unemployment rate, and the fact that while Rhode Island currently has the highest unemployment in the nation, there are job openings. The report shows a growing gap in the skills of our workforce and the skills that we see currently and in the future.
To address these problems, the Senate Policy Office proposed seven strategies, five of which Ms. Ganim sees as relating directly to education:

- Significantly expand the number of internships and apprenticeships in Rhode Island
- Transform adult education
- Reimagine career and technical education (CTE) in Rhode Island
- Eliminate barriers to attaining high school diploma-equivalency, and
- Bridge statewide educational attainment gaps.

Chair Mancuso along with the Board members expressed their appreciation for the report and the work done.

2b. Update on Providence Student Union’s Petition Lawsuit

Paul Sullivan explained that last November the court heard a preliminary injunction in the case that the plaintiffs in the case had set down seeking to have the 9/9 vote declared invalid and an open meetings act violation. The court denied that motion at that time. Since then, the court has set a briefing schedule, the stipulated facts were agreed to by the parties, and on February 14th the Court heard the matter on the stipulated facts. At that time the judge took under advisement the pending open meetings act violations and addressed the administrative procedures act allegation. An order was then entered with the court that by March 17th the Board needs to issue a letter as to the reasons for the September 9, 2013 denial, that the September 9th executive session minutes be produced to the Court. After having an opportunity to review the minutes, the court will meet again on March 6th to discuss what will happen next in the case.
