

An INVITATION from The Governor's Workforce Board

Governor's Workforce
Board
Rhode Island

Today's Vision... Tomorrow's Opportunity.

Employer Perspectives: Preparing Youth and Adults for Work Using the National Career Readiness Credential (NCRC)

Hear an employer's experience with the NCRC

Discuss the strategy to bring the NCRC to Rhode Island

Guest Speaker: Ryan Costella
Director of Strategic Initiatives
Click Bond, Inc.

Open to anyone who provides pre-employment coaching and/or training, including schools, community-based organizations and public workforce system staff.

Thursday, May 28

3:30-5:00 pm

Department of Labor and Training, Room 73-1

RSVP to Amelia Roberts

401-462-8864 or amelia.roberts@dlt.ri.gov

About Ryan: Ryan is the Director of Strategic Initiatives for Click Bond, Inc. which creates innovative mechanical hardware solutions, delivered through world-class manufacturing and customer support and is headquartered in Carson City, Nevada, with facilities in Watertown, CT, and Saltney, Wales, U.K. He chairs the Manufacturing Sector Council of the Nevada Governor's Workforce Investment Board and is on the board of the Nevada STEM Coalition.

As Click Bond started to plan for expansion, Ryan turned to the NCRC, a tiered career readiness credential, issued by ACT, as part of Click Bond's strategy for finding more qualified people. In addition, Ryan worked closely with other employers and state stakeholders to advocate for the NCRC and bring it to Nevada.

Click Here to hear other employer's stories about the NCRC.