Dear Early Care and Education Community,

It has recently come to our attention that there was an error on one page in the printed and electronic copies of the RI Early Learning and Development Standards document. On page 25, Learning Goal SE: 3.a. should read "Children develop the ability to express and regulate their own emotions" instead of "Children develop the confidence to complete an action successfully or independently" which is repeated from Learning Goal SE: 2.b.

The revised version is now available online. For those who have paper copies, RIDE has made available a replacement page which includes the corrected information. We request that the replacement page with the corrected Learning Goal be used moving forward.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused. As a result, if you have any further questions please don't hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Allison Comport
