FOREWORD

Early learning programs that meet RIDE’s 2013 CECE standards for approval:

- Engage highly qualified teachers
- Understand that children learn through play and social interactions
- Create nurturing and thoughtfully prepared classroom environments
- Use carefully designed curriculum and valid and reliable child assessment tools aligned with standards for children
- Engage families as partners
- Meet the needs of all children
- Commit to school readiness and better educational and life outcomes for children
- Know that learning begins at birth

RIDE Comprehensive Early Childhood Education Standards for Approval comprise expectations for Rhode Island’s highest quality preschool and kindergarten classrooms. RIDE’s 2013 CECE Standards for Approval reflect the Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education’s commitment to central elements of high quality early childhood education including the understanding that:

- In the early childhood years, children develop the foundation upon which subsequent development in all domains of learning is built. These years are crucial to a child’s healthy growth and development.
- Disparities in what children know, understand and are able to do are evident before they enter school and are strongly associated with social and economic circumstances. Participation in high-quality early childhood education programs helps close these gaps in achievement.
- Early childhood education programs that implement research-based program standards of quality have been shown to result in positive educational, social, and economic outcomes for both children and society.

In 2012, as part of the state’s work under its Race to the Top – Early Learning Challenge grant, DCYF licensing regulations, the state’s Quality Rating and Improvement System Standards (BrightStars), and the 2010 RIDE CECE Program Standards were revised and aligned to create a logical pathway for continuous program improvement. This newly aligned system supports programs as they increase quality and progress along a “quality continuum.” The continuum begins with the foundational requirements of DCYF licensing/BEP regulations and moves up through the 1-5 Star BrightStars rating process. Programs increase their Star rating as quality improvements are made.

The 2013 RIDE CECE Program Standards represent the highest bar in the quality continuum for preschool and kindergarten programs. Programs that meet these rigorous requirements for program quality may apply for and be granted approval as a Comprehensive Early Childhood Education Program.

APPLICABILITY

Pursuant to state law (RIGL 16-48), these standards shall apply to early childhood education programs enrolling children between the ages of three (3) and six (6) years of age in order to ensure developmentally appropriate early development and learning experiences based on Rhode Island’s Early Learning and Development Standards. These standards shall also pertain to kindergarten classrooms operating in private programs in which kindergarten is the terminal grade.

At the time of application, applicants must meet one of following core levels of approval:

- A community-based program licensed by the State of Rhode Island Department of Children, Youth and Families;
- A public school approved through BEP Regulations and/or Special Education Regulations;
- A private school (PK-12) approved through the Rhode Island Department of Education’s RIDE Private School standards; OR
- A special education school approved through the Rhode Island Department of Education’s RIDE Special Education School standards and Special Education Regulations.

Additionally, the program must provide evidence that it has also submitted an application to the state’s Quality Rating and Improvement System within one year of submitting an application for Comprehensive Early Childhood Program approval.

Application to the Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education pursuant to these standards represents the program’s desire to seek voluntary approval as a Comprehensive Early Childhood Education Program.

When a program is subject to a governmental rule or regulation that exceeds the expectation outlined in one of the standards contained herein, that rule or regulation takes precedence. When a governmental rule or regulation differs in other ways or sets a lower threshold of performance, these standards take precedence.

To be eligible for approval under these standards, the program shall operate a minimum of 13.75 hours per week with compliance with these standards as follows:

- Programs that operate double sessions: Separate morning and afternoon sessions each day must comply with these standards 100% of the time that they are in operation.
- Programs that operate single sessions:
 - Sessions of 6 hours or less in duration per day must comply with these standards 100% of the time that they are in operation.
 - Sessions of more than 6 hours in duration per day must comply with these standards at least 6 hours within their daily hours of operation.

THE APPROVAL PROCESS

This section of the standards outlines the approval process including:

1. Purpose
2. Procedures for Approval
3. Types of Applications
4. Department Action on Applications
5. Provisions of Approval

PURPOSE. The primary purpose of approval is to ensure comprehensive and developmentally appropriate early development and learning experiences in public and private early childhood education programs serving children between the ages of three (3) to six (6) years of age and also in kindergarten classrooms operating in private programs in which kindergarten is the terminal grade. An approval certificate signifies that the program meets standards for comprehensive early childhood education programs contained herein including provisions to fulfill such requirements of the standards contained herein. Further, the approval signifies to families, guardians and other concerned individuals that each child is in a comprehensive learning environment.

Approval is a method of regulation designed to implement the state's obligation to comprehensive early education programs to children who are enrolled. An approval is granted after a detailed review of the program, its application, and supporting documentation has shown that the program complies with established laws and standards. Basic guidelines to be used in the evaluation are described in Section III of these standards. Copies of the form, "Application for Approval of Comprehensive Early Childhood Education Programs" may be secured from the Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education at www.ride.ri.gov.

PROCEDURES FOR APPROVAL. Procedures for approval include:

1. Completion and submission of an application and such documentation as may be required by the Commissioner of the Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education
2. Upon receipt of a completed application and required documentation, review by an authorized representative of the Commissioner to determine compliance of said application with the standards contained herein (See Section III)

3. An on-site visit by an authorized representative designated by the Commissioner for the purpose of providing assistance in terms of compliance matters or observing the program in action
4. Determination by an authorized representative designated by the Commissioner that the program meets requirements for approval based on both the program's application and supporting documentation and the on-site visit to that program

TYPES OF APPLICATIONS. Outlined below are the various types of applications for approval. Prior to filing these applications, it is recommended that the applicant confer with the authorized representative designated by the Commissioner to initiate the steps required for meeting approval requirements. Types of applications include:

1. Application for Initial Approval
2. Application for Renewal of Approval
3. Re-Application for Approval

Application for Initial Approval. A person desiring to open a comprehensive early childhood education program shall make formal application for tentative approval on prescribed forms provided by the Commissioner. Applications may be submitted for multi-site programs or for single-site programs. In either case, all early childhood education programs in any single site must be approved in order for the site to be approved. Approval by the Commissioner is required before any program advertises itself as a comprehensive early childhood education program approved by the Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

Application for Renewal of Approval. Renewal of approval must be made annually. The Commissioner will provide written notification through an authorized representative of the Department prior to the expiration of the current approval that a renewal application must be filed. Early childhood education programs desiring renewal of approval shall make application on forms provided by the Commissioner. In addition to the information required on renewal forms, the applicant program shall provide the Department with information regarding any changes made since the date of last approval.

Re-Application for Approval. A re-application for approval for a comprehensive early childhood education program shall meet the requirements as set forth above in these Standards, "Application for Initial Approval." Re-application shall be filed when:

1. There is a change in the location of the early childhood early education program;
2. There is a major change in the original program, goals and objectives of the program and/or type of population served;
3. There has been a previous discontinuance of the program; or
4. The Commissioner has revoked or refused to renew the program's approval.

DEPARTMENT ACTION ON APPLICATIONS.

After reviewing the data collected and reported by the authorized representative designated by the Commissioner, approval action by the Commissioner shall take the form of one of the following:

1. Approval
2. Approval Variance
3. Provisional Approval
4. Probationary Approval
5. Denial of Approval
6. Revocation of Approval

Approval. A program which meets the standards will be approved, will be issued a letter of approval and certificate to operate, and will be listed in the Department's Directory of Approved Comprehensive Early Childhood Education Programs. Approval is for one year and must be renewed annually.

Approval Variance. A variance to these standards may be allowed at the discretion of the Commissioner or authorized representative. Application for a variance shall include the following items: an identification of the standard for which the variance is requested, an explanation of the program's current status in relation to the standard in question, a justification for the variance request and a specific plan of tasks and timelines for bringing the program into full compliance with the standard. Variances shall be allowed for no more than one calendar year or another timeframe not to exceed five years as specified by the Commissioner or authorized representative. Renewal of the variance can be requested annually as part of the program's annual program approval renewal. A variance renewal request shall address the same items as in the initial variance request plus documentation of task, timelines and progress toward bringing the program into full compliance unless determined unnecessary by the Commissioner or authorized representative.

Provisional Approval. A new program may be given provisional approval for a six-month period during which time an authorized representative(s) of the Commissioner will visit the program for a full review of the program and its operation. This temporary approval may be renewed once if conditions warrant an extension of time and an acceptable step-by-step plan is submitted for meeting the areas not in compliance with these standards.

Probationary Approval. A program currently approved but unable to meet these standards due to special circumstances as allowed by the Commissioner will be required to submit a step-by-step plan for meeting the requirements. If the plan is acceptable, the Commissioner may permit the applicant to continue to operate for a limited probationary period within a given school year. The program will then be re-examined by the authorized representative of the Commissioner and recommendations made.

Denial of Approval. If a program does not meet these standards and the applicant does not submit an acceptable application or step-by-step plan for doing so, the program will be disapproved. When such action is taken, the Commissioner shall, upon written request, grant the applicant a hearing.

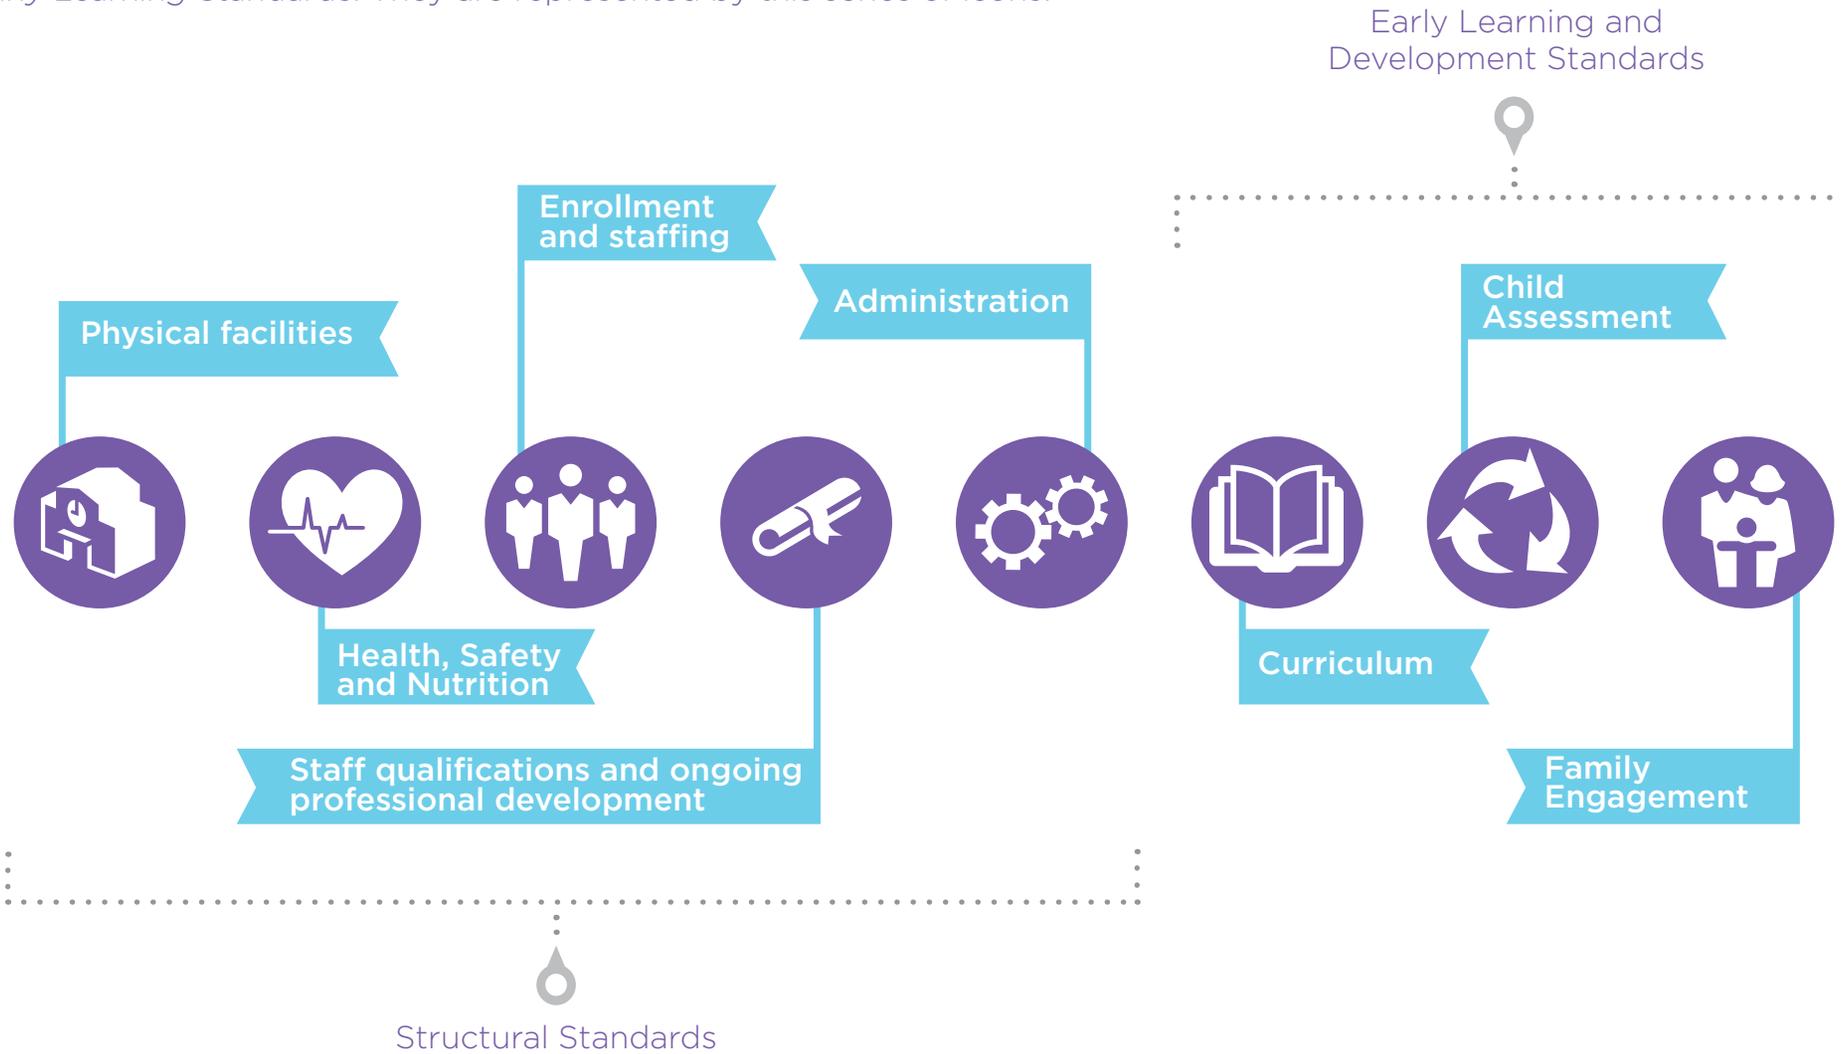

Revocation of Approval. The Commissioner may consider any violation of these standards cause for the revocation of or refusal to renew the approval. A comprehensive early childhood education program approval shall be revoked for cause as specified in Section 16-48-5 of the General Laws of Rhode Island, 1956, as amended (See Section IV of these standards). Where approval is revoked or refused, the applicant has a right to a hearing whereby the extent of the program's compliance with these standards shall be determined.

PROVISIONS OF APPROVAL.

1. A letter and certificate of approval is issued without charge by the Commissioner of Education.
2. The letter of approval shall be maintained on file in the program and the certificate of approval shall be posted in a prominent place within the program.
3. The letter and certificate of approval will state the maximum number of children to be served in the program during any given session and the dates of validity. It will remain in force unless otherwise specified or sooner, if revoked.
4. When the approval is in force, the Commissioner or authorized representative shall be given the right of entrance at any reasonable time, the privilege to inspect the program, and access to all records for the purpose of ascertaining compliance with these standards and investigating complaints.
5. The approval is granted to a designated holder of the letter and certificate of approval and limited only to the location named.
6. An operator of a program must notify the Commissioner of Education of major changes such as closure of service, change of name or location, change of ownership, change of program administrator or early education coordinator, major program changes, which affect the approval certificate while in force.
7. When a program discontinues its operation, the owner or program administrator shall provide written notification to the Commissioner at least thirty days prior to closure.
8. A person, unincorporated society, association, or corporation purchasing a program shall comply with all of the requirements for securing an initial approval. An approval is not transferable or assignable.

3.3 Programs retain the discretion to address exceptional circumstances on a case-by-case basis and, after applying relevant criteria, to determine what is in the best educational interest of a child born after September 1st who has not yet turned three to transition into the program, or a child who has not turned 5 by September 1st of any school year to enter kindergarten. Programs that choose to exercise this option shall have written policies which outline the criteria and that are shared with families and staff.

Children may be momentarily out of sight and sound (e.g., if a child leaves the playground to go into an adjoining classroom alone to get something) as long as the child is back in sight and sound within one minute. Note that it is permissible for staff members to supervise preschool children by sound for up to five minutes only before regaining both sight and sound observation.

Failure to require the affidavit or failure to maintain the affidavit on file will be prima facie grounds to revoke the authority of the facility to operate.

16-48.1-4. Criminal records checks — Operations. Any person seeking to operate a facility covered under § 16-48-1 shall apply to the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department for a nationwide criminal records check. The check will conform to the applicable federal standards including the taking of fingerprints to identify the applicant. The commissioner will determine by rule those items of information appearing on a criminal records check which constitute disqualifying information because the information would indicate that the operation or, in the case of an employee, the employment could endanger the health or welfare of a child or children. Upon the discovery of any disqualifying information with respect to a proposed operator, the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department will inform the commissioner in writing of the nature of the disqualifying information.

16-48.1-5. Criminal records check — Employee. Any person seeking employment/ if the employment involves supervisory or disciplinary power over a child or children or involves routine contact with a child or children without the presence of other employees, in any facility covered under § 16-48-1 shall, after acceptance by the employer of the affidavit required by § 16-48.1-3, apply to the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department for a nationwide criminal records check. The check will conform to applicable federal standards including the taking of fingerprints to identify the applicant. Upon the discovery of any disqualifying information as defined in accordance with the rule promulgated by the commissioner, the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department will inform the applicant, in writing, of the nature of the disqualifying information. In addition, the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department will inform the employer, in writing, without disclosing the nature of the disqualifying information, that an item of disqualifying information has been discovered. In those situations in which no disqualifying information has been found, the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department will inform both the applicant and the employer, in writing, of this fact. The employer will maintain on file, subject to inspection by the commissioner, evidence that the criminal records checks have been initiated on all employees seeking employment after August 1, 1985/ and the results of the checks. Failure to maintain that evidence on file will be prima facie grounds to revoke the license or registration of the operator of the facility. It will be the responsibility of the bureau of criminal identification of the state police or the local police department to conduct the nationwide criminal records check pursuant to this section. The nationwide criminal records check will be provided to the applicant for employment without charge.

HISTORY

The Rhode Island Department of Education has a long history of providing outlining expectations for programs that care for and educate Rhode Island’s youngest children. In 1968 by act of the Rhode Island General Assembly, The Rhode Island Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (RIDE) was authorized to plan for the approval of existing “nursery schools” and to assume leadership for establishing standards for new early learning programs. By legislative act the Commissioner of Education was given responsibility for setting standards and planning approval procedures for programs serving children ages three to six. The establishment of statewide standards for approval was deemed essential to ensure that all children enrolled in early childhood settings would enjoy the benefits of a safe and healthy learning environment.

In 2008 the RI Department of Education expanded its commitment to support high quality early childhood education by strengthening its regulations and standards for approval. RIDE, in partnership with other key stakeholders, established a two-tiered approval system. Programs that demonstrated foundational program quality met the basic health and safety requirements for Department of Children, Youth and Families (DCYF) licensing or Basic Education Program (BEP)/Independent school approval. Pre-school and Kindergarten programs that met the foundational requirements for DCYF licensing/BEP compliance and demonstrated evidence of exceptional quality of educational programming were eligible to voluntarily pursue approval by RIDE as a Comprehensive Early Childhood Education (CECE) program. The RIDE CECE Standards for Approval were promulgated in 2010.

In 2012, as part of the state’s work under its Race to the Top – Early Learning Challenge grant, DCYF licensing regulations, the state’s Quality Rating and Improvement System Standards (BrightStars), and the 2010 RIDE CECE Program Standards were revised and aligned to create a logical pathway for continuous program improvement. This newly aligned system supports programs as they increase quality and progress along a “quality continuum.” The continuum begins with the foundational requirements of DCYF licensing/BEP regulations. Programs can then move through the 1-5 Star BrightStars rating process increasing the program’s Star rating as quality improvements are made. The 2013 RIDE CECE Program Standards are the highest bar in the quality continuum for preschool and kindergarten programs. Programs that meet these rigorous requirements for program quality may apply for and be granted approval as a Comprehensive Early Childhood Education Program.
