Dear Governor Raimondo and the Education Funding Formula Working Group,

My name is Carol Kemer. Thank you for all that you do for Rhode Island. I am writing to ask for your support of The Metropolitan Regional Career and Technical Center (The Met). The Met is important to my family and to the community, and I am concerned about the financial challenges they are facing. My child Julia Kemer, is a 11th grader at The Met.

The Met is an innovative public career and technical school, which offers integrated academic and work skills programming. With high standards and strong family engagement, The Met's individualized learning approach has proven successful in unlocking students' passion for learning.

However, The Met faces many challenges and needs your support. As a state-operated career and technical school, The Met relies on sufficient funding from the state to support the unique needs of the innovative programs and its students, including my child Julia Kemer.

Here's why the Met is so important to me: Julia struggled with learning in elementary school. We searched for a high school that would help and encourage her to do her best academically. The Met school has been great for Julia. She is able to learn at her own pace. She is given opportunities through her LTI that she would not have received at a traditional high school.

I invite you to visit The Met to see the great work being done to prepare students for post-secondary schooling and careers. We appreciate your open perspective on this matter as you review the funding formula. We are depending on your help to ensure innovate career and technical education for the students of Rhode Island.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Carol Kemer

The Met is important to my family and to the community, and I am concerned about the financial challenges they are facing. My child Danisa and Danielle Cruz is a ^{11th + 12th} grader at The Met.

The Met is an innovative public career and technical school, which offers integrated academic and work skills programming. With high standards and strong family engagement, The Met's individualized learning approach has proven successful in unlocking students' passion for learning.

However, The Met faces many challenges and needs your support. As a state-operated career and technical school, The Met relies on sufficient funding from the state to support the unique needs of the innovative programs and its students, including my child Danisa + Danielle Cruz

Here's why the Met is so important to me: All my children have been Met students that support my children's education. They are like family. The advisors are wonderful. I appreciate the programs available like the paid college classes offered and the internship opportunities that help my children and their future careers.

I invite you to visit The Met to see the great work being done to prepare students for post-secondary schooling and careers. We appreciate your open perspective on this matter as you review the funding formula. Dear Governor Raimondo and the Education Funding Formula Working Group,

My name is Stacey Mason Burkhardt and I am writing to ask for your support of The Metropolitan Regional Career and Technical Center (The Met). The Met is important to my family and to the community, and I am concerned about the financial challenges they are facing. My child, Cameron is a 10th grader who is presently enrolled at the Met for his second year.

The Met School has been highly beneficial for my family. My son Cameron is a kid who was struggling socially in the public school setting and was having a tough time with many of the teachers and especially his fellow students. Within a week of attending the Met back in September 2014 my husband and I immediately noticed a change. Cameron now looked forward to attending school and was passionate about the subject that he has chosen. Right off the bat after years and years of struggling with the public school system it was clear that The Met was the place for Cam to be. He has basically "found his people".

My husband and I both attended public schools and we both struggled with the cookie cutter approach to public education. I did not want that for my son and as a result I looked into The Met. It was the best decision I have ever made and I only wish that "back in the day" that I had the same option as he does now. It is so important that future students like Cameron have this tremendous opportunity.

As you know The Met faces many challenges and needs your support. As a state-operated career and technical school, The Met relies on sufficient funding from the state to support the unique needs of the innovative programs and its students, including my child Cameron.

I am available at any time to discuss the importance of the Met. I invite you to contact me or better yet visit The Met to see the great work being done to prepare students for post-secondary schooling and careers. We are depending on your help to ensure innovate career and technical education for the students of Rhode Island.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Dear Governor Raimondo and the Education Funding Formula Working Group,

Our name is Darren and Kris DeSouto. Thank you for all that you do for Rhode Island. I am writing to ask for your support of The Metropolitan Regional Career and Technical Center (The Met). The Met is important to my family and to the community, and I am concerned about the financial challenges they are facing. My child Darren J DeSouto, is a 10th grader at The Met.

However, The Met faces many challenges and needs your support. As a state-operated career and technical school, The Met relies on sufficient funding from the state to support the unique needs of the innovative programs and its students, including my child DJ DeSouto.

Here's why the Met is so important to us: The Met School is the best thing that happen to our child and his High School career. He is in he's second year and is thriving. He is out the door every day without fail and will only miss school if it absolutely necessary. The internship part of his learning has been such a huge success last year he interned at the new Gym at Naval Station Newport RI and he loved it. His learning there ranged from how to proper maintain the gym to customer service to helping out with fitness programs. What a great Real World learning experience it was for him. After his freshmen year he applied for a boat building program, which came through The Met and was picked and had a great 6 week summer experience building a 17' Dory from scratch. Now this year he landed an internship with a great mentor who remodels mostly antique boats for her employer. He is learning soup to nuts on boat works from line tying to suiting up in a respirator and sanding a boat to finish ready. I really can't say enough on how much he has already grown and how much he has accomplish being in the Met School. I know by the time he graduates he is going to have quite the impressive resume and he will be ready for whatever direction he wants to go in.

I invite you to visit The Met to see the great work being done to prepare students for post-secondary schooling and careers. We appreciate your open perspective on this matter as you review the funding formula. We are depending on your help to ensure innovate career and technical education for the students of Rhode Island.

Dear Governor Raimondo and the Education Funding Formula Working Group,

My name is Caric Rose. Thank you for all that you do for Rhode Island. I am writing to ask for your support of The Metropolitan Regional Career and Technical Center (The Met). The Met is important to my family and to the community, and I am concerned about the financial challenges they are facing. My child ANGELINA ROSE, is a 10 grader at The Met.

The Met is an innovative public career and technical school, which offers integrated academic and work skills programming. With high standards and strong family engagement, The Met's individualized learning approach has proven successful in unlocking students' passion for learning.

However, The Met faces many challenges and needs your support. As a state-operated career and technical school, The Met relies on sufficient funding from the state to support the unique needs of the innovative programs and its students, including my child ANGELINA ROSE.

Here's why the Met is so important to me: maturity, getting along with others

I invite you to visit The Met to see the great work being done to prepare students for post-secondary schooling and careers. We appreciate your open perspective on this matter as you review the funding formula. We are depending on your help to ensure innovate career and technical education for the students of Rhode Island.

Thank you for your time and consideration,
