Brief explanation of format (e.g., virtual, synchronous, asynchronous):
In-Person – Brainspring Instructor comes to your school or district to provide the training onsite and in-person. Livestream - Brainspring Instructor teaches this course live in real time via Zoom. Self-Paced – Teachers learn at their own pace through a series of highly engaging and interactive instructional modules online via Canvas. (Level I only)
Brief explanation of professional learning experience:
Brainspring’s IDA and IMSLEC accredited Orton-Gillingham based courses directly align with the Science of Reading and Structured Literacy instruction. Participants learn to teach reading to beginning, struggling, at-risk, learning disabled and dyslexic students K-12 using the Orton-Gillingham Principals of Instruction. Teachers learn and practice these instructional principles until they become naturally ingrained in lesson delivery. Courses are highly interactive using Instructor modeling, partner practice with Instructor feedback, small and whole group discussion, lesson assignments and peer reflections. All materials are included in the per person pricing.

The approved courses are Structures I and II. These courses are best suited for specialists and special educators required to meet proficiency criteria in grades 6-12.
